NBJWC Does It Again!

Proud Sponsor of New Activity & Recreation Center

"Here we stand, Ready to lend a helping hand" - NBJWC

New Berlin WI - Mayor Dave Ament was happy to accept a generous donation of $10,000 from the New Berlin Junior Woman's Club (NBJWC) for the highly anticipated New Berlin Activity and Recreation Center currently under construction at 15321 W National Avenue. Presenting the check from the NBJWC were Erica Moranski, Jamie Rodgers, Jen Macakanja and Jane Jeruc.

This donation qualifies the New Berlin Junior Woman's Club for the Dance Studio Sponsorship with naming rights to the Dance Studio and other promotional opportunities. The new Activity and Recreation Center will also offer a teaching kitchen, multi-purpose spaces for fitness, art, and technology classes, a gymnastics space, an indoor playground for day camp and much more.

"On behalf of the entire Common Council and the residents of New Berlin, we wish to extend our heartfelt appreciation to the New Berlin Junior Woman's Club for their continued dedication to this community and their long history of doing exceptional things" stated Mayor Dave Ament. "Thank you."

About the New Berlin Junior Woman's Club: The NBJWC, a group of women committed to serving and strengthening the community through fundraising, volunteerism and friendship, has been serving the Community since 1975. This group was the impetus and proud sponsor of the New Berlin Malone Park all-inclusive playground which was constructed with over 1,000 volunteers in 2016. Their most notable fundraisers include the Harvest Art & Craft Fair, the Hanging Basket Flower Sales and the Pop Up Boutique. New members are always welcome.
